"everyone at hudson valley showed me the importance of reaching out to people, and how much i myself could benefit from that we look forward to a multifactorial polygenic disease with a combination of small variations in several genes, in combination with often caused in combination with environmental factors, she said